

CONTENTS.

NO. I.—JANUARY.		The Study of Words,	112
The Synthetic and the Analytic,	1	Resident Editor's Department.
Substance and Show,	5	District Meetings,	114
Completing the Square,	7	Classes of Nouns,	115
Resident Editor's Department.		Order,	119
"Watchman, what of the Night?"	10	Local and Personal,	121
Perpetual Teachers,	12	School Reports,	123
A Polytechnic School; its Origin and Use,	16	Teachers' Journals,	124
Thoughts in a School-Room,	19	Book Notices,	127
A Story for the Little Folks,	20	NO. V.—MAY.
The Teacher,	23	Life-work,	129
"Veritable Facts,"	25	Moral and Mental Training,	135
A Word to School Visitors on Penmanship,	25	Humbug,	138
Ohio Schools and School Systems,	26	Scholars' May Song,	141
Local and Personal,	30	School Government,	142
The Journal, Advertisements,	32	Resident Editor's Department.
NO. II.—FEBRUARY.		Parental Co-operation,	144
The Idea of a Graded School,	33	Drawing,	147
Teachers should Teach,	41	The Teacher's Reward,	150
Mood and Tense in Compound Propositions,	44	The Word Right,	151
Official Department,	47	Parental Discipline,	152
Resident Editor's Department.		Power of Kindness,	153
What can be done for the Improvement of	49	How to Teach the Alphabet,	154
our Schools,	50	Learn all you can,	155
Preaching and Practicing,	53	School-Room Etiquette,	156
Moral Education,	58	Local and Personal,	157
Encourage the Little Ones,	60	Book Notices,	160
Miscellany,	62	NO. VI.—JUNE.
Book Notices,	64	Letter to a Young Teacher,	161
Advertisements,	64	The Characteristics of Dr. Arnold as a	166
NO. III.—MARCH.		Teacher,	169
A Plan to make better Teachers, Physically	65	An Earnest Life,	172
and Mentally,	69	Aspirations,	173
Religious Teaching and Influence in the	69	Miss Kindly's Method of Teaching Children	177
School Room,	72	to Read,	183
Hints on the Physical Condition of Females	72	Natural History,	185
in our Country,	74	Object Lesson—A Book,	186
The Progress of the Teacher and Scholar,	74	Graded Schools,	191
Resident Editor's Department.		Local and Personal,	192
What can be done for the Improvement of	77	Teachers' Meetings—Book Notices,	192
our Schools,	79	NO. VII.—JULY.
Moral Education,	81	School Records,	193
Annie's Wish,	83	Worcester's Quarto Dictionary,	196
How to Cure a Fault,	85	Official Department,	197
Object Lesson,	86	Resident Editor's Department.
Nature and Culture,	88	Parental Co-operations and Influence,	198
Local and Personal,	92	An Allegory,	200
School Statistics,	93	The Love of Teaching,	202
Miscellany,	96	A Leaf from the Red Brick School-House,	204
Book Notices,	96	Reading and Spelling in Primary Schools,	205
NO. IV.—APRIL.		Physical Education,	207
Qualifications of the Teacher,	97	The Prompt Remedy of Evils,	210
Reading,	100	Guessing in School,	213
Ready—Aim—Fire!	104	Paper,	215
A Gem,	107	A Story for Children,	216
School Apparatus,	107	Be Courteous,	218
How to Teach Latin,	109	Miscellany,	221-223
		Book Notices,	224

NO. VIII.—AUGUST.

School Devotions,	225
A Chapter of Hints,	227
Fact—Kind Words,	232
Official Department,	233

Resident Editor's Department.

Vacation,	235
The Broken Saw,	237
State Teachers' Association,	238
Language,	243
Thoughts for the Female Teachers of Connecticut,	246
Composition and Declamation,	249
Local and Personal,	251
Teachers' Institutes,	252
Book Notices,	255

NO. IX.—SEPTEMBER.

Grammar—A Few Hints to Young Teachers,	257
A Few Hints on Habits,	262
Grumblers and Grumbling,	265
Humboldt,	268
Oral Instruction,	273
Amusements and Sports,	275
The Common School,	278
Show me, if you Please,	280
Baron Von Steuben,	281
Stories for Youth,	283
Teachers and Normal Schools,	284
Local and Personal,	286
Book Notices,	288

NO. X.—OCTOBER.

Thoughts for the Female Teachers of Connecticut,	289
Progressive Teaching,	293
A Teacher is not always surrounded by Sunshine,	296
Teacher's Meetings,	297
Official Department,	297
Teachers and Schools,	299
Charles Mason's Watchword,	299
Conquering by Kindness,	302

Diligence and Idleness,	303
A Remembrance,	306
The Profession of Teaching,	306
The New Teacher,	306
Slate Globe and New Slates,	311
Miscellaneous,	312
Local and Personal,	316
Book Notices,	319

NO. XI.—NOVEMBER.

Cultivated Perceptions,	321
Practical Education,	324
The Retentive Power of the Mind,	327
Little or None,	328
Of Regularity in Studies,	329
The Old Brick School-House,	331

Resident Editor's Department.

Tenth Anniversary of the Connecticut State Normal School,	333
Old Squire S—'s Doctrine, etc.,	336
Liberal Education,	337
Perseverance,	341
Miscellaneous,	342
Acquaintance with Nature,	343
Personal Influence,	345
Intelligence,	347
Local and Personal,	349
Notices of Books,	350

NO. XII.—DECEMBER.

Hints for Beginners in Teaching,	353
Be Hopeful,	357
Early Training,	360
The English Language and English Literature,	364
A Story for Youth,	368
Capability vs. Capacity,	372
A Useful Exercise,	373
Composition,	374
Official Department,	376
A Chapter for Normals,	378
Local and Personal,	380
How to bear Little Troubles,	381
Book Notices,	383